

Michael Collins

This film is about the battle for Irish Independence. What do you think about this battle now that you have viewed this film?